Kelley-Cockley Wedding.

A notable event in the society circles of Alpena was the marriage of Miss May C. Kelley, only child of Judge and Mrs. R. J. Kelley, to W. A. Cockley, at the Golling House, last Saturday evening. udge Kelley and family were temporal-y stopping at the hotel, on account of recent fire in their residence on First the recent fire in their residence on First street. The ceremony was performed in the private parlor of the hotel, and was witnessed by about forty of the leading society people of Alpena. Owing to the absence of Rev. John Munday, of Trinity church, the Episcopal marriage services were solemnized by Rev. Cash of Long Rapids mission. About nine o'clock the wedding party entered the room, consisting of the bride escorted by her father, the groom and his best man, W. F. Victor, and Mrs. R. J. Kelley, and Miss Golling as bridesmaid, and Carl Golling. As they entered Mrs. H. Clothier played As they entered Mrs. H. Clothier played Mendelsohn's Wedding March. After the ceremony, and the newly married couple had been warmly congratulated by their many friends, all present marched to the dining room where a sumptuous banquet was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, and many congratulatory telegrams were received from friends. The bride is well known in this city, having passed the greater part of her life here. The groom is one of Alpena's new and energetic business men, having come to this city a few years ago and erected the new stave works. The Argus takes this opportunity to wish Mr. and Mrs. Cockley a happy future, well strewn with prosto the dining room where a sumptuous banquet was served. The bride was the ley a happy future, well strewn with pros-perity and happiness.

Decoration Day was the most agreeable one of the year, the sun shining brightly, and a cool, balmy wind tempering the atmosphere, and the day was appropriately observed. Soon after dinner the "vets" of Lockwood Post, G. A. R. marched to the Opera House, where the Memorial exercises were held, including singing, recitations and an address by Rev. Thos. Middlemass. On the stage there had been erected a monument suitable to the occasion. After the exercises were over a procession was formed and march was made to the cemetery, where the graves of doceased "vets" were decorated with flowers. The procession consisted of the Guards, drum corps, car containing young girls, boys with evergreen wreaths, Lockwood Post, and citizens in carriages. Fury seat in the Opera House was occupied, and hundreds more of people would have been present if there had been more room.
